Everything is alright

Lina and Mary

you I am relieved - We have had a terrible experience, but are out of it at present. Mamma and I crawled out of our rooms from a small opening in just our night clothes and bare feet. Haven't recovered all our clothes yet.

I am writing Arie to get Mamma's clothes and all the ornaments possible out to our house, if the Pleasanton hasn't already gone. When Charlie comes things will have to look brighter.

In haste and with much love -

Lillian

Come to San Jose and bring all the girls, if there is any danger at all - It seems as 75 - South 13th St. though I must go up in spite Care Mrs Frank David. of everything -

Please get my corals in the small right hand drawer of my bureau - key in upper left hand corner drawer of Charlie's chiffonier - Latest reports are dreadful - Come in the Auto quick as you can - put childrens clothes in pillow cases and bring in Auto. Can you send the horse + brougham down.

Dear Mrs Moore -

I think it will be best for you to send the children with Louise and Avis or some reliable person on the train tomorrow to San Jose. Avis can arrange to get them to the train some way - We will meet each one as you will have no way of letting me know - About yourself, don't stay in the city unless you ~~[illegible]~~ think it safe. - Will try to arrange for Mr and Mrs Stoddard to stay in the house or anyone else you think of so it will be protected -

If either of the other girls would rather come instead of Louise, it is all right. Have the children clothes packed in my large trunk including their new clothes which are in two drawers of Charlie's chiffonier in my room. Josephine's new coat was to be sent home soon after I left. - also the rest of my under clothes & summer skirts in the trunk by the window in the attic. If things look more favorable I will perhaps go back to the city later, if not, either south or to some ranch until the scare is over.

The first news we had from you all was from Mr Hunt this morning and I tell

Dear Mr Avis,

If the Pleasanton hasn't already been destroyed and you think there is danger of it and that our house will be saved, will you see please that Mamma's clothes and pictures, ornaments and other valuable articles are moved to 3100 Washington st. The small chiffonier belongs to her and if they will allow it, have the larger one packed with some things and taken out also. Everything is locked, but the house keeper will have keys. There are a few ornaments in the drawers which might get broken if more things are not packed in. Send word to Rebecca, her maid, Mrs Rebecca Averitt, address in telephone book, on Broderick between Bush & Pine, and she will pack the clothes. See if she wants to come down to Mamma. Would be glad if she would. The first word we had from you all was from Mr Hunt this morning. I was just about crazy. Mamma and I are stopping with friends at present. It is dreadful what we have been through soon as you possibly can please get a wire to Charlie that we are all right. It will be some comfort to him. I am having the children sent down to me - Will you see, in case

Mrs Moore wants to leave the city, if Mr and Mrs Stoddard or some one we know will take charge of our house so it will be protected.
If I could only see you and know how much harm has been done.

Sincerely -

Mrs C. C. Moore -

Are you sure this hasn't extended east?

75 - 13th st.
Care Mrs Frank David.

Will it be best to bring the children down in the Auto or any of the others - Can you send some money?

My own darling -

Perhaps a wire can be gotten to you before this saying your whole family are all right, so try to worry as little as possible. We were born lucky in some ways dear - I have sent for the children and your mother if she wants to come, to stay in San Jose until I can know further what is better to do. I think Aris can get some one reliable to stay in our house. Mr and Mrs Curtis from Tonopah are there now - Mamma and I were the first ones out of the Annex, but minus any clothes. Are at present with some old friends from Janesville. I have been nearly wild for news of the children since the earthquake - This morning Mr Hunt came in his automobile. I want to see you so - Your own devoted - wife -

I am well, but using pencil to hurry this out.

My Dear Mrs Moore

I was in S Jose' yesterday and tried to find you but failed - I heard of your terrible accident at the Vendome and I write to express my joy at your providential escape and that of your mother - The whole thing is too terrible for words and I thank heaven that your lives have been spared for your dear family - With heartfelt congratulations for these mercies and the assurance of my sincere devotion I am

Yours truly

you both - Avis told me he would cable around the word to New York this morning would start - with the children for you and we would go to Los Gatos, but the new machine was blown up in the building yesterday, the other one was used in the ambulance service yesterday and tire bursted - Stoddard is burned out - every thing is gone down town Palace, St, Francis - Hopkins and Stanford art galleries. how we do wish we were all together, but I feel that we are safe now - I have lost every thing at the Stewart. but am so thankful that we are all unharmed, The City is under Marshal law, so we feel protected with the Soldiers
I hear the Pleasanton is burning
The children are doing finely and of course dont realize the terrible calamity –

Mother Moore

Josephine had a letter from your Father this morning from the Springs –

Wed 10 – A.M.

My dear dear Lillian

We are all safe oh so happy to hear that you are, the house badly wrecked chimneys and gas off – Every thing is going in town, had an auto at the door all night, in case the fire reached here but feel safe now – Charlie all burned out; have tried hard to get a message to 3100 Washington St.

April 16th

My dear Lillian

I concluded to take time by the forelock, and write first thing this morning - I wish I felt assured that you were improving in health as fast as those you left - Josephine doesn't cough any at night and ~~I~~ very little if any through the day - Mary Bernice has had no severe coughing spells, and coughs very little through the night - The morning is lovely and bright the morning to dress Josephine's leg, and then all will be over for his visits for some time to come I trust. Lillian I wish that you would try that medicine I told you of and sit in the Sun all you can - Have no worry of home, don't worry about anything, that is more than half in ones health - You have no occasion at all only to look on the bright side, I don't always stumble so in leaving out words and adding wrong letters With lots of love for you and your mother, believe me

Affectionately
Mother Moore

The children are out in the air, I will have Josephine write you later in the day. We have not been out driving yet: although Doctor said the children could go— Mrs Greenwood went to the Matinee on Saturday and caught cold, she thought best to stay in doors for a day or so– The children are very fond of her, I tell them that I am jealous of her. She is taking a Sun bath in the nursery, while I am writing The girls are fine, they are all so good to me. There has been no fussing as yet. Mary Bernice had to be punished a little yesterday for kicking a little girl– she had to remain indoor for a time, I don't think Josephine has been in disgrace in any form. I will let Josephine tell you about their Easter, Ida was over yesterday, she looked very fine in her Easter Suit– George left for the East last night on the Santa Fe road– The Doctor is to call in

My dear

I think it will be better for me and the children to wait until morning and have Dick come with us - We are apparently out of danger we all packed to move out if necessary - The horse and rigs Arthur has charge of and watching to take us out if necessary - Stoddard is staying with us nights - they have lost every thing he took Mrs D.'s Grass Valley - The man is anxious to get off - We are all right, I am sending you some clothes -

My dear Lillian:-

We were so glad, to hear of your safety- We went down to your house to inquire about you all, and the girls told us the good news- Charlie told us of your miraculous escape and how brave you and your Mother were.

We can never thank Charlie enough for his kind thoughts of us when he reached home and then his taking us to dear Heber's funeral.- We could not have gone otherwise

Your girls Mary and Lina were so kind to us. They gave us some olives and honey and Lina brought us water. We are so glad you are away from these privations that every body has to share in at this time.

God bless and keep you and your dear ones.

With much love from all. Sincerely Yours.

WILL FIX UP THREE BIG BUILDINGS

The heart of every San Franciscan will be made glad by the news that three of the handsomest buildings in the business district are to be restored as soon as men and material can be secured. The first of these buildings is the St. Francis Hotel, the second is the Crocker building and the third is the Shreve building. All these structures were gutetd from cellar to roof by the fire, but unharmed by the earthquake. Their reconstruction will consist of practically nothing but a replacing of floors, partitions and fittings. This announcement is official, having been made yesterday by John J. Mahoney of the building committee.

Mahoney said that he and the builders associated with him on the building committee have been deluged with appeals from the corporations owning real estate in the burned district—appeals for building permits, for assistance in getting material, for assistance in getting workmen.

"If I could personally accept every building contract that is offered me" he continued, "I could be a millionaire three times over in one year. At present, however, I am not serving my individual interests, but those of the city as a whole. But I am so proud of the way in which the St. Francis stood the temblor—having myself built the St. Francis—that I take a good deal of pleasure in making known the Crocker Hotel Company's determination to rebuild at once, no matter who does the work. The restoration of this structure, the Crocker building and the Shreve building will probably be entered upon simultaneously."

There were several other important announcements made at the office of the Building Committeee yesterday, among them being that of the adoption of a resolution which will be interesting to those intending to rebuild structures totally destroyed. This resolution reads as follows:

"Resolved, That no permit will be given at present for the construction of any building in San Francisco, but the owners of property will be allowed to proceed and erect upon their premises temporary one-story buildings constructed of galvanized iron or redwood, without a permit."

"We have decided upon this course in reference to new buildings," said Chairman Jeremiah Dineen of the building committee, "because it is extremely probable that the work of rebuilding will be carried on under ordinances differing materially from those now in force. The height of such structures as may hereafter be erected may be restricted; the arrangement of many of the streets will probably be changed, including a system of boulevards, and some strict regulations will be made in regard to the material used in all new buildings east of Van Ness avenue or whatever point may be hereafter fixed as the fire limits. It is safe to prophesy that no more frame buildings will be permitted, that brick will not find much favor, that steel frames will be imperative and that even stone will be barred unless it is of such a quality that it can pass a rigid fire test."

Chairman Dineen also stated that 300 bricklayers have been provided with tools and set to work repairing fallen chimneys i nthe part of town left intact. These repairs are made at the expense of individual property-owners and the following bulletin has been prepared for the general information:

"PROPERTY OWNERS MUST NOT ARRANGE FOR MERELY TEMPORARY REPAIRS TO DAMAGED CHIMNEYS. ALL REPAIRS MUST BE PERMANENT, OR THE INSPECTORS WILL NOT PERMIT THE CHIMNEYS TO BE USED. NO REPAIRED CHIMNEY SHOULD BE USED UNTIL A PROPERLY APPOINTED INSPECTOR HAS APPROVED THE WORK."

Another item of interest from the building committee's headquarters—which are in the garage at the corner of Golden Gate avenue and Gough street—made public the fact that Eddie Graney had begun building a blacksmith shop at Van Ness avenue and Market street and that he will immediately build two other shops.

MRS. ANNIE C. C. BADGER WANTS HER BABY

Mrs. Annie C. C. Badger has lost her baby. Do you know Mrs. Garrick, who lived at 1550 Mason street? The child was in her care when the fire razed that neighborhood. Mrs. Badger has searched two cities for the little one. She may be addressed in care of Dr. Charles R. Brown, First Congregational Church, Oakland.

SANTA FE ITEMS.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway has established its general ments in the waiting-room ormerly occupied by the California Northwestern Railway on the second floor of the ferry building, San Francisco.

An information bureau for both freight and passenger patrons has been established in a tent at Fillmore and Post streets.

MAYOR SAYS WATER IS LIMITED

The Mayor has issued the following proclamation:

"All citizens are notified that it is a crime to wear a Red Cross, impersonating an officer of the Red Cross Association, without having proper authority to do so. You will, therefore, take notice that those who wear the badge of the Red Cross without authority will be arrested and dealt with according to law.

"As there is no necessity for private citizens bearing arms, or for the organization of a vigilance, citizens or any other private committee to arm and patrol districts, you are hereby notified to discontinue the same, as the military and police authorities will be very strict in the enforcement of the law relating to the carrying of concealed weapons.

"To impersonate an officer of any kind is a crime, and all private organizations and all cadets of every kind, are hereby requested to discard their uniforms in order that only the Federal troops and the State militia may be uniformed and so recognized. This order must be strictly carried out or arrests will follow for impersonating an officer.

"You are again notified not to use water except for washing and drinking purposes, as the supply is very short, and may, perhaps have to be cut off altogether for a few days in order to repair the breaks in the pipes.

"Keep up the same fortitude that you have exhibited in the past week, and the same kindly nature which has made the people of San Francisco famous during this catastrophe. Business is gradually being resumed. We hope soon to have the condition so that it will continue without interruption.

"Let every man and woman be a sanitary officer in order that the proper sanitary measures may be enforced, and an epidemic of disease prevented. Help the authorities in their work, because by so doing you will help yourselves, and will tetnd to quicken the bringing about of the former conditions.

"Again I say be calm, exhibit the same brotherly love toward one another you have exhibited in the past week; bear with each other in good nature and good will, and trust in God to help us toward the upbuilding of the future San Francisco.

(Signed.) "E. E. Schmitz."

VOL. LXV OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY EVENING APRIL 23, 1906 NO. 54

OCCUPANTS OF A RED CROSS AUTO SHOT AT; 1 KILLED.

H. C. TILDEN IS BRUTALLY MURDERED.

OTHERS WOUNDED IN PISTOL DUEL.

Refers killing of Helen Tilden's death time of fire.

(By Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, APRIL 23.—H. C. TILDEN, ONE OF THE MOST PROMINENT MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL RELIEF COMMITTEE, WAS SHOT AND ALMOST INSTANTLY KILLED IN HIS AUTOMOBILE ABOUT TWELVE O'CLOCK LAST NIGHT WHILE RETURNING FROM MENLO PARK BY MEN SUPPOSED TO BE MEMBERS OF THE CITIZENS PATROL.

A FRIEND OF TILDEN'S, WHO WAS IN THE AUTOMOBILE, WAS CUT IN THE FACE BY A BULLET, AND ANOTHER BALL PIERCED THE SEAT AND STRUCK R. C. SEAMAN, ACTING LIEUTENANT OF THE SECOND COMPANY OF THE SIGNAL CORPS, IN THE BACK.

THE FORCE OF THE BULLET HAD BEEN SPENT AND SEAMAN, WHO HAD BEEN DETAILED ON SPECIAL DUTY WITH TILDEN, PICKED THE BALL OUT OF HIS CARTRIDGE BELT.

TWO MEN ARRESTED.

THE SHOOTING OCCURRED AT TWENTY-SECOND AND GUERRERO STREETS.

TWO MEN SUSPECTED OF HAVING DONE THE SHOOTING ARE UNDER ARREST AT THE POLICE STATION AT TWENTY-SECOND AND MISSION STREETS.

Tilden was a prominent commission merchant of this city and was one of the foremost workers in the general relief work.

He had taken his three children and a nurse from the Fourteen Mile House where they had been since the earthquake, to Menlo Park where he has a summer cottage.

RED CROSS FLAG.

His automobile had been used as an ambulance in conveying sick and wounded to the hospitals and was carrying the Red Cross flag prominently displayed in his car. Besides this, he had the Red Cross insignia on his right arm.

According to Acting Lieutenant Seaman, Tilden was his own chauffeur and left Menlo Park about 9 o'clock.

ARE CHALLENGED.

At Twenty-eighth and Guerrero streets, they were challenged by the first of the chain of patrols and upon calling out "Red Cross" were allowed to pass.

At Twenty-fifth street a second guard challenged them and immediately gave way upon perceiving the Red Cross flag.

Crossing Twenty-second street at about fiften miles an hour, acording to Seaman.

Six men stood in the middle of the road, but separated when the car got within fifty feet of them.

When within ten feet of the guards. Seaman claims they began shooting without any warning or challenge, and kept up firing afterthe car had passed them.

THEY KILLED ME.

The shots from the front took no effect with the exception of a bullet grazing the face of Tilden's friend.

"The machine had gone about fifty feet past the patrol," said Seaman. "The car stopped suddenly. Tilden fell over towards me saying:

"Well, they got me—they killed me, flopped back in the seat and rolled out of the car.

SHOTS ARE RETURNED.

"I sprang up and fired five shots in quick succession at the man who was still shooting behind me.

"About the same time that Tilden fell in my lap, a bullet struck me in the back and nearly knocked me out of the seat.

"I put my hand to my webb cartridge belt and pulled out the bullet which had come through the seat.

"The man who did the shooting was in khaki uniform.

"A doctor came running from a house near and after examining Tilden, said he was dead. Several policemen came running up and arrested two of the men who did the shooting."

E OF BODY.

H. H. [illegible] of Brann & Prior, sailmakers, who resided near by, was awakened and impressed into service as chauffeur. Tilden's body was placed in his car and taken to the Central Police Station at Bush and Fillmore streets. Owing to auto constantly breaking down, it took Seaman two hours to reach police headquarters, where the body was placed on an improvised stretcher and taken to the Elks' Emergency Hospital on Bush street, between Fillmore and Steiner streets.

METROPOLITAN GRAND OPERA COMPANY IS NOW ON ITS WAY EAST.

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—A majority of the members of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company, sufferers from the San Francisco disaster, has arrived in Los Angeles by special train. Fifteen minutes was allowed here for the members to purchase necessary articles before the train went past. Mme. Sembrich, Caruso and others of the principals went east direct from San Francisco.

METHODISTS TO REBUILD

Several of the Methodist Churches in San Francisco were burned, and nearly all seriously injured by the earthquake. But there is in the church the same brave spirit that animates the business men of the city. Every church will be rebuilt as soon as possible.

Dr. Matthew, the presiding elder, has called a meeting of all city ministers and laymen in Simpson Memorial Church, corner of Hayes and Buchanan streets, Tuesday evening, April 24th, at 11 a. m. Congregations are of course widely scattered, but it is hoped a goodly number may come together for prayer and conference.

COLORED PEOPLE IN NEED OF WORK

There is now established at the A. M. E. Church, Fifteenth street between West and Market streets, a free employment agency, where any one in need of men and women for house and general work can find colored help for small recompense at present.

Hoping that those in need of such will take no undue advantage of these homeless people.

We appeal in the name of humanity for an opening for the better element of our colored people who can be recommended by Rev. O. E. Jones, pastor.

HOUSED IN OAKLAND.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Beazley who were burned out at 1118a Leavenworth street, San Francisco, are now at 166 Ninth street, Oakland.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK.

GRANTS PASS, Or., April 23.—An earthquake shock was felt here a few minutes past 1 o'clock this morning.

SHAKE IN THE NORTH

PORTLAND, Or., April 23.—A special from Glendale says that an earthquake shock was felt there at 1:11 this morning. The shock was sufficiently severe to rock buildings and rattle china in the closets.

BUILDING IS PARTLY SAVED

Attorney William M. Sims, whose office was at 504 Kohl building, corner of Montgomery and California streets, visited the building yesterday in company with an army sergeant, and found the first four stories badly burned, but all the offices above that practically uninjured.

Said he, "The law offices of myself and George S. Hewlitt, Franklin K. Lane and his partner, Lederman, were not entered by the fire and all the papers, books and records of these offices are intact. The elevator was uninjured and only requires power to start it again.

"In my judgment $25,000 will repair the building and put it in as good condition as ever."

Mr. Sim's temporary address is at the Athenian Club, Oakland.

WILLIE AND JIMMY FOUND TO BE SAFE

Editor TRIBUNE—There is a persistent rumor in San Francisco to the effect that I was killed. I am still on earth and am at a loss to figure out how the rumor started. Jimmy is also safe.

WILLIAM BRITT.

GILROY IS DAMAGED

GILROY, April 23.—In Gilroy the loss will amuont to $50,000. Nearly every chimney in town is down, and several of the fire walls are down. Plastering fell in the high school building and in many homes, and one or two of the churches. The heaviest loser is Thomas Rea, whose brick store buildings are all damaged and rendered unsafe. Dr. Clark's operating room was in a sorry plight, many valuable instruments being ruined. The hospital patients were moved to other quarters. The plate glass windows in McComas & Roth's and Hecker's were broken. The cornice and fire wall is off the north wall of the hospital and the postoffice building.

Robinson Hardware Company suffered a severe loss to their new stock of buggies and road carts. The heavy fall of bricks shattered the roof and the buggies it sheltered. Their loss is at least $3000. R. Graef will have to rebuild his entire store building. The roof fell in and ruined his shoe shop. His loss is the cost of a new building.

Princevalle and Thomas' stores were a mess of canned and bottled goods. Hecker got off luckily, considering his immense stock of groceries and his fine cut glass. His loss will probably amount to $500. The two drug stores suffered considerably. High priced drugs were mixed on the floor with patent medicines. Geo. Wentz' loss is $200, and Ed. Johnson was hit harder. His building was damaged to some extent and his total loss is $500.

Mrs. Harriet Ellis' brick block occupied by Riley & Feeny, and the adjoining property of Chappell & Co., lost the cornice and fire wall all around. Her property ocupied by R. E. Wood was also damaged, and her loss will amount to $2000.

Many predicted that the city hall would be flat, but it stood the test admirably, losing only a little of the stone veneer, and some plastering inside.

The Dunlap block lost the fire-wall at the rear and the glass front. Across the street the brick building occupied by the French bakery and adjoining saloon lost a portion of the front and fire-wall. Awnings and glass fronts went down with a crash. Bricks and chinaware falling in homes roused everyone, and the streets were soon full of people.

We thought we were hit hard until reports came in from Hollister, San Jose and San Francisco, and now we are thankful we were in Gilroy, where no lives were lost and the damage light in comparison with other towns.

UNLIMITED AID CAN NOW BE GIVEN TO CALIFORNIA BANKS.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Secretary Shaw has announced that the $10,000,000 limit on telegraphic transfers to San Francisco has been lifted. All relief that can be promptly extended to California banks will be given.

Services Held at Ruined Edifices

On the steps of the shattered churches and on the green slopes of parks and cemeteries the people of San Francisco assembled at the usual hours for religious services. Grateful for the opportunity to express thanks for their preservation, and anxious for the words of cheer and comfort that will carry them through future trials, the people assembled in even larger numbers than is customary. There was no distinction as to sect or denomination, the gatherings including, as a rule, a large percentage of the families camping or residing in the vicinity. Catholic clergymen celebrated masses in the Jewish cemetery and persons of every creew knelt with bowed heads while the services were in progress.

ARCHBISHOP AT ST. MARY'S.

On the steps of St. Mary's Cathedral and on the upheaved pavement of Van Ness avenne overlooking the blackened waste that began just across the street Archbishop Montgomery celebrated mass at 8 o'clock. The service was attended by thousands, covering the church steps and extending well up and down the street in either direction. The archbishop's words of comfort and his reference to the death of Fire Chief Sullivan affected the entire great assemblage, and tears streamed down hundreds of the faces upturned to the tiny altar in the open doorway of the vestibule, while the broken sobs swept in a wave of sound from end to end of the congregation.

Archbishop Montgomery said in part:

"San Francisco shall have a day of resurrection. Not a city in the United States destroyed by fire has failed to grow up a better city upon the ruins of the old, and so will San Francisco. Its position is such and the position of California at large is such that it has to be so.

"We must arouse in ourselves that true American spirit that looks not at the city in its devastation, but rather to its day of resurrection.

"We must look rather to the side that presents the brighter view. We must be grateful that, considering the earthquake and the succeeding conflagration, there has been but little loss of life. We should be grateful likewise that much of the city and many of the homes still remain.

"Again, we all understand that hardships and suffering stare us in the face, but what is demanded is patience and courage. The first few days will be the hardest to bear, but as the machinery of organization is perfected all will grow better.

"I call your attention to what may be seen in our immediate locality as an example of what is taking place everywhere. The basement of the cathedral is a supply depot where a large district is receiving the necessaries of life. Sacred Heart Convent has been turned into a hospital, with the sisters in charge and a medical staff appointed. The technical school has been turned into a shelter for the homeless, with the Sisters of Charity in charge. The whole sisterhood of the city and of the diocese are at work or ready to be the moment they are called upon for assistance. Other denominations and other organizations are doing the same, so that in a little time, with generous contributions, it is evident that there cannot be many days of want. There has never been an appeal made to San Francisco from any part of the world that has not been met magnificently, and as we cast our bread upon the waters it is now returning to us. Few greater calamities have ever befallen a city, but mindful always of the higher life and the victories of faith are the only true victories, still we must arouse in ourselves that true American spirit that looks not at the city in its devastation but rather to he day of its resurrection."

Five masses in all were celebrated at St. Mary's Cathedral.

MASSES AT ST. VINCENT'S.

The congregation of St. Vincent's Church, Steiner and Green streets, heard masses at 8 and 9 o'clock. An altar was raised in the doorway of the parochial residence, adjoining the church, and there Father Martin Ryan, assisted by a Jesuit father, read the gospel of the day and the masses. The fathers spoke but very briefly, telling their people that the masses were offered in thanksgiving for the salvation of such a large proportion of the people and for the special grace of the Almighty in sparing those in the St. Vincent parish, which was not burned. It was announced that until arrangements could be made to get into the church masses would be held in the street each morning at 6:30 and 8 o'clock.

CALVARY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Among the worshipers were those assembled at the Calvary Presbyterian Church, corner Fillmore and Jackson streets. The Rev. John Hemphill presided. Two hundred people were present. The services opened with prayer appropriate to the occasion, and "The Church," an anthem of devotion, was sung. The pastor read from the forty-sixth Psalm. He said in part as follows:

"I came here not to preach. In fact I could not deliver a sermon at this time and you are not in a mood to listen to one. A great disaster has overtaken the beautiful city of San Francisco. Such a terrible disaster has never before happened to any city since the world began. San Francisco, though terribly shaken at her foundation, will rise again. God is still on the throne—therefore we need not fear. Be courageous, be helpful to one another and all will end well. Our misfortunes are mutual. The rich and poor share the same fate. This is the first time in my life that I had to beg my bread from the public crib."

The preacher's voice faltered. He was overcome with deep emotion and stood speechless as the tears trickled down his cheeks. There were many wet eyes in the congregation. The pastor then concluded his sermon by extending a hearty invitation to the houseless, homeless persons to seek shelter under the hospitable roof of the edifice.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES AT PRESIDIO.

In the Presidio there were simple, but impressive services in the post chapels, both Protestant and Catholic. The Y. M. C. A. also held services, conducted by Secretary Rev. S. R. Wood. All of these services were attended by large congregations, but there was very little preaching, the thought of the priests and pastors being that there was little that could be said, except brief words of cheer.

At the Presidio post chapel mass was celebrated at 6 o'clock and again at 10. Father P. J. Hart of the Artillery Corps officiated at the early service as post chaplain and Father John E. Cottle of St. Bridget's Church celebrated the later mass. There were no services. After the services Father Hart requested that "The Examiner" announce to the people generally that throughout the Presidio hospitals and camps there was ample attendance of priests and preachers, who are constantly going among the people, affording comfort and solace.

At St. Sebastian Chapel the venerable Father Prelate, S. J., celebrated mass at 9 and 11 o'clock, and held devotional servicees at 3:30. Father Prelate has occupied the little chapel for eighteen years, and his seventy-seven years and devotion to his work have won him the love of many of the soldiers. There were many boys in blue at the services, together with as many of those in the camps as the chapel could hold. The priest, speaking but for a moment, counciled the congregation to put themselves into the hands of God and to abstain from sin in their hour of extremity.

At the Protestant Chapel, Presidio, the Rev. George A. Hough of the California-Street Methodist Episcopal Church, assisted by the Rev. W. C. Poole of the Methodist Book concern, Market street, held informal services at 11 o'clock, and again in the afternoon. These services were held in the open air, the pastors standing upon the chapel porch. There was no preaching at either hour. There were responsive readings, songs and prayer, the idea of the ministers being to admit no word that could savor of sectarianism. The services were attended by hundreds.

There will be a meeting of the Methodist ministers of San Francisco at the National Deaconess' Training School, 129 Haight street, at 11 o'clock on Monday morning. As nearly half of the Methodist churches, including the largest, have been ruined, plans for carrying on the work of Methodism must be made, and to make them this meeting is called. The call is issued by President George A. Hough of the Methodist Ministers' Association of San Francisco.

Sacred Heart Convent has established a branch emergency hospital on Franklin street, near O'Farrell. Dr. C. F. Pawlicki, formerly of the Emergency Hospital service, is in charge, and Dr. Wilton Lennon is his assistant.

Hundreds of parishioners are being fed and cared for in the basement of the St. Mary's Cathedral, Van Ness avenue and O'Farrell street, under the supervision of the Rev. Father Hannigan.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS MEET.

The members of the Knights of Columbus held a general meeting yesterday in the basement of St. Mary's Cathedral. Neal Power, the Grand Knight, presided, and Archbishop Montgomery was one of the principal speakers. Arrangements were made for relief work to begin at once, and committees appointed to go all over the city for this purpose. The knights attended mass in a body.

A general meeting of the Knights of Columbus will be held this afternoon at the Cathedral. The work of relief, communication and the like will commence then. Every member in this city is urgently requested to be present for the [illegible] of himself and the thousands of sufferers. The knights will make arrangements to secure a full supply of food as well as hundreds of tents and quantities of bedding. Vallejo Council telegraphed yesterday that it would be ready to send aid by this morning.

EIGHT BUILDINGS FOR HOMELESS

NUMBER OF PARK CAMPERS ARE HOUSED.

The engineering department of the United States army, having in charge the construction of temporary buildings in Golden Gate Park for the housing of the homeless camped there, reports that eight buildings 150 feet long by 28 feet wide and 13 feet high have been finished. These buildings will be cut into compartments each large enough to furnish sleeping room for a family, and each compartment will have a separate entrance from the outside.

Lumber is being delivered at the Park in large quantities and 135 carpenters are at work on the temporary buildings. Many of the people who have not had even tent shelter thus far will to-night have a roof over their heads.

CHINESE TO BE ISOLATED

The military authorities, it is generally understood, have decided to deport all homeless Chinamen to a general rendezvous on Angel Island, there to remain until ways and means can be found by which they can find occupation and be housed.

Many of the woman campers surrounding the Chinese camps at the Presidio and North Beach have requested their removal to some distant points.

RACE TRACK REFUGEE CAMP

Experiences of Men Identified With Sporting

Shellmound Park and the racetrack have been transformed into one big camp for the refugees. The cooks of the racetrack and restaurants are working night and day providing food for the homeless, who have been given shelter in the sheds and some of the track barns. Hundreds of track followers are being shipped from Emeryville to outside points and the horsemen who saved any money have not hesitated to divide with the less fortunate. Johnny Lyons, a bookmaker, drew $7,000 from one of the San Francisco banks while the fire was raging and has provided living expenses for many a track follower left penniless.

Starter Holtman and H. H. Egbert, who were reported burned to death, have arrived safely in Oakland, neither having had so much as a narrow escape.

Judge E. C. Hopper escaped with his daughter and is living in Oakland.

Frank Skinner, with his ninety-two-year-old mother, who is visiting from Canada, escaped from a burning building and have taken quarters with friends elsewhere in the city.

William Murray, the caller, had a narrow escape. He was with Mrs. Murray on the sixth floor of the Regina when the first shock came. The roof fell in and the building was badly cracked. Plaster fell in the halls and throughout the hotel. Hastily dressing, Murray took his young wife in his arms and strugled down the six flights of stairs. The building was swaying and about to crash to the ground, while the hall was almost impassable on account of the fallen plaster and timbers. Mrs. Murray insisted on carrying her pet dog, which added to Murray's burden. She was sent to her home in Los Angeles.

George Rose, the bookmaker and principal owner of Ascot Park, Los Angeles, escaped in a pair of pajamas and light slippers. He had hastily gathered all his most valuable belongings in a barrel and rolled the barrel for over a mile to a place of safety.

Bill Jackman, the New York bookmaker, was enjoying an automobile ride during the earthquake and was hurled high in the air from the plunging machine. The frightened chauffeur raced away, leaving Jackman standing dazed in the midst of falling buildings. He escaped without serious injury.

Art Newman, the owner, with Mrs. Newman and Jockey Preston, were at the Terminus Hotel. After the shock Newman with Mrs. Newman and the boy jumped to an adjoining roof and fought his way over fallen timbers and plaster to the street and went at once to Oakland.

Barney Schreiber, the bookmaker and owner, escaped with his bankroll and without a scratch.

Tom Wand, the handbook man, escaped to Fruitvale and on Thursday was surprised to meet Harry Gardner and a number of other racetrack men with their families making their way along on foot.

"Where are you bound for?" asked Wand.

"We don't know," was the reply, "just so we get as far away from San Francisco as possible." Wand took them in and is housing the party in Fruitvale.

W. I. Engstrom and Ab Stemster went to work aiding in the rescue work. Engstrom was busy digging ditches and Stemster put in a day tossing brick.

Every negro at the track was terror stricken after the shock. They rushed from all sides to the center of the infield. One black boy prayed loudly for the world not to come to an end and another suggested a hymn. They tried several, but finally, when one Southern lad started "I wish I was in Dixie," every colored boy joined in with spirit, and this, more than anything else, helped to calm the excited negroes.

Magrane and a filly, sister to Yellowtail, were on the track at the time. Magrane ran away and was slightly [illegible] running into a post, was killed.

As soon as possible all stables which are not shipped East will be sent to Seattle. It is the general impression that the Petaluma meeting is off and every effort will be made to have the Seattle races open earlier than was planned.

Frankie Neil, who was to have met Abe Attell in Los Angeles last Friday, has been riding about town on a horse but will go south shortly.

Willus Britt was injured in San Francisco while aiding in dynamiting.

Harry Corbett, his family and many of the sporting fraternity moved out to Uncle Tom's Cabin. The Cabin was badly shaken by the earthquake, but is still habitable.

MONEY INTACT IN CITY VAULTS

CITY OFFICIALS TO ESTABLISH HEADQUARTERS.

The City Auditor, Treasurer, Tax Collector and City Attorney have established headquarters at 2511 and 2513 Sacramento street, near Fillmore, and are now making active preparations to resume the work of their offices. The vaults of the Treasurer, Auditor and Tax Collector are intact. There is something like $6,500,000 in gold in the vaults of the City Treasurer and about $4,000 in greenbacks. The Tax Collector will be in a position to resume the collection of taxes in a few days, and there is no doubt that all of the officials and other employees of the city and county of San Francisco will receive their salaries at the expiration of the present month.

All employees of the above mentioned city departments are requested to report to the new headquarters Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

TRENCH HALF FILLED. TO BE FILLED WITH DIRT FROM SUCCEEDIN TRENCH
SUCCESSIVE TRENCHES DIRT THROWN INTO PRE-CEEDING TRENCHES WHEN PARTLY FILLED

Henry H. Rutherford, sanitary officer in charge, approves the following plans furnished by Dr. Thomas G. McConkey, one of the sanitary inspectors, for constructing latrines. A trench, three or four feet deep, and length proportional to the number of people to be accommodated, should be dug, throwing the dirt on one side. When this trench is partly filled with garbage, etc., an[illegible] with earth along as it is used—for dry earth is a disinfectant and deodorizer—it is then completely filled by digging another trench parallel with the first. This [illegible] be repeated, of course.

The present plan [illegible]gging holes here, there and everywhere, as is being done now, is utterly bad. Camps or communities in [illegible]es without water should unite and select a suitable location and use this in common. Two such latrines, one for each six, should be constructed at once. Don't wait for an inspector, but go to work at once, as the need for more systematic disposal of sewage is urgent and immediate. It is utterly impossible for inspectors to visit the many districts, but with these directions and diagram there is no excuse if this is not acted upon immediately.

HEARTS OF GOLD ARE FOUND ON ALL SIDES

BY KARL VON HERRMANN.

Looking back ove those two dreadful days and nights when we were camped under a sky of smoke and flame and our city of cities fell to ruin before our very eyes, I find that the things remembered soonest are the little things. Like all the rest, I looked in the face of Death and fled from the sword of fire, and sat amid the relics of appalling loss. Like all the rest, my head was gray with ashes, my face was smeared with soot, my nails were broken by dragged burdens, my feet burned with weariness. Like all the rest, I saw the most terrible spectacle of all my life, though I have passed through battles, flood and perilous storms at sea. Yet I am forgetting the terror and the hardship and the panic when I tell the story to the curious. The little things come soonest to my lips.

I saw a wizened man on the box of a landau talking to another man who stood on the edge of the sidewalk. Beside the man on the sidewalk lay a young woman, her pale lips parted, her eyes closed. The talk between the two men was of fare to the ferry. The hackman wanted $50 for the journey. The man on the sidewalk offered $11 and said that it was all he had. The woman moaned, and her husband—for he was her husband—pleaded. After a little while the hackman drove away. Then a man with a dirty face and a clay pipe in his mouth came along. He was driving a rickety horse in a rickety express wagon, and the wagon was heaped high with rickety furniture. This man saw the woman on the sidewalk and inquired about her. He was told that she was very ill, and that her husband wanted to get her sheltered at her mother's across the bay. The dirty-faced man scratched his head, took another look at the woman, waved away the $11 with a sweep of the clay pipe and jumped to the ground. Ten minutes later the rickety furniture was left in a pile where the woman had lain and the woman, with her husband, was traveling ferryward.

I saw a cluster of excited people gathered round something that lay under a tree in the panhandle. I asked a question and was told that a baby had just been born. One of the women ran to a trunk that stood nearby, opened it and rummaged until she found some tiny garments. Another woman went to her own litter of belongings and dragged back the only mattress she had. Another woman brought bedclothes; another brought a fan; and it was as plain as print that not one of the women there remembered the destruction going forward to the eastward.

I saw a bright-faced girl sitting on a piano stool in Jefferson square. There was a piano, too, and she was playing a tune on it. The tune wasn't much—just one of those simple, common things that any one can hum; but it seemed like a very wonderful tune, nevertheless, heard out there in that ruck of disorder, with a pall of black smoke and a great glare in the sky, and with ashes sifting over everything. It seemed like a very wonderful tune because around the bright-faced girl, who, somebody said, was a school teacher, a score of little children sang the words that went with the tune at the top of their voices. Surely, surely, it was worth while to have dried the tears that still showed their furrows on all those smudgy little faces. Wasn't it?

I saw a woman cooking something in a pot poised upon brick stacked round a fire in the gutter. It was twilight, and the fog was stealing through the street, and the woman, thinly clad, shivered with cold. A cavalryman with a snub nose sauntered by. He had on a warm cape, lined with red flannel. When he had passed the woman he stopped, looked back and went up to her. When he resumed his beat the cape was over the shoulders of the woman. She shivered no more—but forgot to stir whatever it was in the pot to watch the snubnosed cavalryman out of sight.

I saw a baker's wagon arrive at Alamo square early Friday morning. The wagon was heaped with bread, and the refugees camped upon the hillside ran toward the baker with cries of joy. The bread, he told them, was not to be given away, but was for sale, and when they asked how much he wanted for a loaf he set the price at 50 cents. Some of them, having the money, bought from him at that outrageous figure. But most of them could only stand wistfully away. Then came up a boy in a militia uniform. He climbed up on the seat beside the baker, without speaking to him, and held his revolver at a suggestive angle. "Come on, everybody," he said, "and take one loaf apiece." So the bread went, as it should, to those who were hungry and could not buy it.

Such were some of the little things I saw, a few out of hundreds. They showed how powerless were the mean and cruel, how great were many hearts, how much better most of us are than we know ourselves to be till troubles gives us a chance to show our colors.

FIFTY CARS OF GOODS ARRIVE

Hearst Specials Hurry from Southern California With Supplies

Fifty cars sent by the Los Angeles "Examiner" from Southern California with provisions for the W. R. Hearst relief corps arrived yesterday evening and the supplies were immediately unloaded and distributed among the different Hearst hospitals in San Francisco and Oakland and at the tent city.

The first train came over the Southern Pacific, arriving at 5 o'clock. Three hours later the second train arrived. Thirty cars constituted each train, ten of which were picked up at the different small towns along the way.

These cars contained tents, provisions, bedding, drugs and disinfectants. The hospitals have been in great need of the drugs.

There were several carloads of fresh vegetables for the hospitals, and as half of these cars were iced at Bakersfield the green stuffs were in first-class condition.

Word comes from the south that Los Angeles and the smaller towns only await word from San Francisco as to the immediate needs to rush the things most desired.

Another large Examiner train is expected to-day and others will follow daily. Relief stations have been established by the Hearst forces in all southern towns.

JEWISH HEADQUARTERS.

District Grand Lodge No. 4, Independent Order of B. N. I., has established relief headquarters at the corner of Devisadero and Hayes sts.

HELP FROM NORTH.

The following telegram has been received by "The Examiner" regarding supplies from the northern portion of the State: "Marshfield sent her first donation to-day by the steamer Breakwater to San Francisco sufferers, consisting of clothing, two thousand sacks of potatoes, five tons of butter, five tons of cheese and two thousand loaves of bread. There was baking in the oven of every household in Marshfield last evening. Mayor Straw and a committee raised $1,700 in an hour yesterday. North Bend also subscribes a large sum to the fund. Carloads of provisions are coming from the Coquille and more will follow. Cheerful was the response for aid to the prostrate city whence Coos Bay has drawn its fortune in return for her products."

STOCKTON OFFERS AID.

Mayor Gardner of Stockton reports that they have accommodations and food for 5,000 persons. Steamers are leaving daily from the foot of Market street, the California Transportation Company's wharf. Women and children can be cared for better than men. Mayor Schmitz received from Mayor Gardner yesaterday: "We are prepared to collect beef in the San Joaquin valley and barbecue it by the trainload. Cannery placed at our disposal for canning soup and beans. The situation justifies so large an endeavor? If so will attend to the whole matter at our expense."

REV. CROWLEY RETURNS TO DO RELIEF WORK

The Rev. D. O. Crowley, superintendent of the Youths' Directory, returned from Omaha Saturday and has taken an active part in the relief work of the Mission committee Father Crowley is directing the work of transporting the food to the fire sufferers. He was on his way East when he learned at Omaha of the earthquake and fire and immediately made arrangements to return to San Francisco. At Ogden he took passage on the Wilson special. Father Crowley was much affected on visiting the site of the Youths' Directory on Nineteenth street and seeing only the front blackened wall standing. He has great faith in the people of San Francisco, however, and says he believes that it will rise greater and more beautiful than ever. He has made arrangements for sending the eighty boys of the institution to the Rutherford Boys' farm in Napa county. The boys were taken to Mount St. Joseph's Home when the directory began to take fire.

SKILLED HELP WANTED.

The general committee is seriously handicapped in its distribution of food because of a lack of skilled assistance. Already the wharves at Oakland and Point Richmond and the depots in San Francisco are crowded with cars. Immediate assistance is therefore asked by the committee from all persons who have been engaged in selling food supplies in the past. Wholesale grocers and butchers are asked to send their employees to the headquarters of the committee in Franklin Hall at once. Shipping clerks, draymen and bookkeepers are specially required. Employers are asked to send all such help to the committee at once.

WILL BUILD A CITY GREATER THAN EVER.

James J. Fagan, the vice-president of the Crocker-Woolworth National Bank—"The spirit of San Francisco's substantial citizens is depressed, but not broken. With a new heart, renewed determination, those who have been instrumental in the upbuilding of the San Francisco that was, will unite for the reconstruction of the San Francisco to be. It will be a greater city, more pretentious in its appointments and more modern in its design. The business section of the city will be rebuilt upon more advanced lines than every before; private residences will replace those which have been destroyed. This is a time for general mourning, a time for serious lamentation, but out of it all will come the hope of the future, the prospect of greater accomplishments, and greater ambitions for its citizens. Much will depend upon the course pursued by the large insurance companies. They hold, in a measure, the destinies of hundreds of thousands of our citizens in their hands. I am told that they will meet the enormous demands of the situation; that they will pay practically dollar for dollar to every policy holder. If they do this, and I sincerely hope that they will, the future of San Francisco is assured."

TOILERS WANTED IN THIS CITY

GOOD WAGES TO BE PAID FOR REBUILDING WOK.

"There is work in plenty in San Francisco. There is employment here for many thousands. Every man who applies for work will get it. We intend not to impress men, but to hire them. We want teams. And above all things, we want it understood that wages will hereafter be as high as they were in the immediate past."

This statement was made yesterday afternoon by Mayor Schmitz, after a meeting of the Demolition Committee, which decided that the task of tearing down the ruins would begin without delay.

Men are not encouraged to leave this city. Their services are needed to assist in building the new San Francisco. The Transportation Committee yesterday decided not to give tickets to able-bodied men desiring to flee. Women and children will be provided for. They are out of place in the city. But men are wanted.

This morning at 7 o'clock the work of demolition will begin, and all the dangerous walls will be dynamited. The Market-street shells will fall first; then the side streets will be cleared.

When the walls are down new buildings will begin to rise.

Thomas Magee, W. Magee and E. A. Mizner, owners of river steamers, visited the parks and camps yesterday and urged women and children to leave town. More than 5,000 persons were transported from the foot of Van Ness avenue to points up the Sacramento river.

WORK OF REPAIRING THE SEWERS IS BEGUN.

Acting under instructions of the Board of Public Works, E. J. Brandon and a number of volunteers yesterday inspected the sewers in the Mission district, looking for breaks. Repairs were made on the Eighteenth-street brick sewer at Valencia street.

Between twenty and thirty men were sent underground to search for breaks, and at the same time other volunteers uncovered the sewers from the surface of the ground with the same purpose in view.

The board will employ bricklayers and mechanics at this work, and members of these trades who want immediate employment are requested to apply at once.

It was found yesterday that the sewers in Fifth, Sixth and Seventh streets to Channel street, where the main outlet sewer is located, were in good condition. From the result of yesterday's inspection it is thought the sewer system generally was not greatly damaged by the earthquake and that the breaks are comparatively few and far between.

The Street Cleaning Department has men and teams at work removing debris from vacant lots and parks where refugees are camped.

RED CROSS OPENS ITS BRANCH AT THE PRESIDIO

The Red Cross Association yesterday opened its Presidio branch, with Mrs. Austin in charge. Its work immediately began with the establishment of a registration bureau and the erection of numerous tents in the center of the post from which the distribution of stores are to be made. A large stove was also set in place closely and arrangements for a soup kitchen begun.

Mrs. Sarah Frye, who has charge of the San Francisco branch of the national organization, was on the ground yesterday to get the relief movement under way. She states that her plan consisted mainly of devising some means by which the immense stores of clothing and provisions now on the way here can be distributed without waste and unnecessary extravagance.

She advised that if some plan can be arranged by which all of the campers' tents could be numbered, she thought that members of the society could see that everybody was fed equally well and the system of people standing in a long line could be abolished.

"As matters are now," she said, "some of the Italian families scatter their children along the lines and each one loads himself with provisions. It is well known that some of these families have stored away immense quantities of provisions and keep asking for more while others have scarcely any."

All day long a stream of people visited the General Hospital yesterday at the Presidio, inquiring for their friends. BRICKLAYERS WILL NOT TAKE ADVANTAGE.

The members of the Bricklayers' Union at their meeting yesterday resolved that they would not advance the rate of wages at present paid them for work.

RUTH WOLFORD IS ALIVE AND WELL

POLICE FIND CHILD AND PARENTS REJOICE.

Baby Ruth Wolford is alive, well and in the keeping of Captain of Police Duke at his home out at 526 Seventh avenue. By this time her distracted parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolford, may have heard of their child's whereabouts and have had their agony and suspense of the past few days turned to joy and thanksgiving. Baby Ruth has been lost to her parents since last Wednesday afternoon.

She was found by the police at that time wandering about Alta Plaza. The policemen who found the pretty tot turned her over to Captain Duke a little later. The Captain had the child removed to his own home until her name and her whereabouts could be ascertained. A description of the child was left with the various information and registry bureaus. In that way the identity of the child was ascertained.

Blue-eyed and curly-haired Ruth, all unconscious of the dreadful calamity of last Wednesday and the danger to herself and everybody else on all sides, wandered out of her parents' sight hardly for a moment. When they turned to take her away from their home with them she was gone. She had been lost in the crowd and had been alone several hours before the police managed to pick her up.

MAKING ARRANGEMENTS AT MATERNITY HOME

Dr. Ward announced this morning that four maternity homes had been established in the emergency hospitals of the city. The doctor further stated that three more would be provided before night. The spacious tents put to use for this purpose were received from the Presidio, Sacramento and Oakland. The emergency surgeons think that there will be need of more maternity homes being established, and tents will be erected in the vicinity where occasion requires their use.

The Health Department is now sanguine that the emergency organization is complete. Twenty additional teams were put to work this morning for the purpose of removing garbage and the call for volunteer physicians is being responded to by great numbers.

The Health Department announced yesterday that all men sworn in for service by it would be paid. This announcement has in a measure helped the department to secure sanitary inspectors for all districts.

BERKELEY CARES FOR 10,000

UNVERSITY CAMPUS THE SCENE OF ACTIVITY.

BERKELEY, April 22.—Ten thousand refugees are being cared for in this city to-day. Emergency hospitals, distributing stations for food and sleeping accommodations have been provided for all who are homeless, and not one of the entire number is hungry to-day. The University of California campus is the principal field of operations. A maternity hospital has been established, with physicians, nurses and complete equipment, and three babies were born there last night. Seven were born in the hospital in the Native Sons' Hall.

The woman students of the university have charge of the feeding of the homeless strangers, and twenty ranges have been set up under the oaks. Tables have been set up and the women are busy cooking and serving the food for the multitude. The bathing facilities in both the men's and women's gymnasium have been turned over to the relief committees and more than 200 shower baths are in use daily. Laundry facilities have also been set up for both men and women in Harmon gymnasium. The sanitary condition is perfect and there is at present no danger of the spread of disease. All the fraternity, club and sorority houses have been given up by the students and are occupied by the refugees.

FORT MASON HOSPITAL DOES EXCELLENT WORK.

Reports from the hospital at Fort Mason are excellent. A surgical clinic, a dispensary and a clinic for the treatment of diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat have been established there in tents outside the hospital. Dr. Gray, the physician in charge, is surprised at the fact that they have not had to turn any patients away. Mrs. A. Adler of Adler's Sanitarium on Green street has general supervision and has placed her entire corps of nurses and attendants at the disposal of the authorities.

Three babies were born in the maternity ward Saturday night.

It was reported yesterday at this hospital that the people in the vicinity of Twenty-fourth and Castro streets were badly in need of drugs.

Enormous Amounts of Money Being Added Daily for Relief Purposes

From all over the country comes the response in cash subscriptions to the cry of need which goes up from this city. Yesterday the high water mark in donations to the fund of the sufferers of the San Francisco tragedy. In New York yesterday sufficient monies were raised to bring the amount subscribed up to two millions of dollars for the metropolis alone.

Every city and town and village in the country is answering nobly to the call for funds to care for the thousands and thousands destitute and homeless who are now just living among the charred remains of a fire-licked city.

Realizing the enormity of the task of relief, President Roosevelt requested Congress to make the country's subscription $2,500,000. This necessitate dan increase of a million and a half instead of a million, as at first intended.
